THE PROSPECT SEEMS BRIGHT FOR SUCCESS PEACE EFFORT

WILSON FAVORS MEDIATION PLAN

Would Send Envoys to Mexico to Confer With Rival Factions.

BRYAN AND LAMB MENTIONED

Leaders of the Rebellion in the Neighboring Republic Not Likely to Look With Favor Upon Suggestions of Mediation at This Time—Huerta Government Also Believed Opposed to the Scheme—Late Developments.

Washington, July 25.—It is almost certain now that some effort will be made by the Wilson administration to bring about mediation between the warring factions in Mexico. It was acknowledged authoritatively that the president has such a project under consideration, but the arrangement of details has not progressed beyond the point of discussion.

Developments here indicate that the leaders of the constitutional rebellion in Mexico will not consider for a minute the suggestion of mediation at this time. Spokesmen for the constitutional rebellion, headed by Governors Carranza and Pesqueira, show no disposition to listen seriously to such a proposal, and while the attitude of the Huerta government is in doubt, the impression is growing that it, too, will look with disfavor upon any plan of this character.

While the details of the administration's scheme are still to be worked out, the idea that finds greatest favor at present is for the appointment of a commission by the president to go to Mexico and confer with the various factions with a view to effecting a common understanding and a truce for the holding of a special election. In this connection it was suggested that the president might send John E. Lamb of Indiana, who is supposed to have been picked for ambassador to Mexico, on this mission. It was also suggested that Mr. Wilson might select his secretary of state, William J. Bryan, to make those important overtures to the Mexican factionists.

The mediation plan will be taken up with Ambassador Henry Lane Wilson here and a definite decision may be expected the first of next week. In the meantime, no more arms and ammunition will be shipped into Mexico, pending the determination and carrying out of the mediation program.

AMERICANS SAFE

Party Besieged at Madera Now On Way to Frontier.

Washington, July 25.—Reassuring dispatches regarding the safety of the Americans and their families who have been virtually under siege at Madera, Mexico, have been received by the state department. This news indicates that the Americans are now on their way from Madera. The officials of the Madera Lumber company, of which the men in the party are employees, have informed the department that they believe there is no condition warranting great alarm concerning the Americans.

We should not overlook the fact that our dear friend, the Iceman, should be included among the cubists.

Binghamton Fire Horror That Cost 50 Girls' Lives; Like That of the Asch Building Holocaust.

Similar in many respects to the Asch building fire in New York city, in which more than 100 lives were lost was the fire which destroyed the four story brick factory building of the Binghamton Clothing company at Binghamton, N. Y., taking a toll of fifty lives. As in the case of the New York holocaust, most of the victims were girls. Scores were hurt in the panic stricken rush for fire escapes and in jumping from the third and fourth floors. Reed B. Freeman, president of the company, says that familiarity with fire drills had caused his employees to become almost indifferent to alarms from the system installed in obedience to the state authorities and that to this fact can be attributed the heavy loss of life—the victims mistaking the first alarm for a fire drill summons.

Many of the prisoners in Sing Sing (N. Y.) earned commendation of the officials by their heroic work when the shops were ablaze, and it is likely that most of them will be rewarded with special privileges, while pardons or commutation of sentence will be asked for several. Ample opportunity was given for escape, but not one tried to get away. The convicts at work as volunteer firemen at the burning of the mat factory are shown above.

DRYS FILE PETITION

Would Prohibit Shipment of Liquor Into Arid Territory.

Columbus, O., July 25.—Petitions bearing 37,500 signatures were filed by the Anti-Saloon league with the secretary of state today, calling for a referendum on the measure to prohibit the shipment of liquor into dry territory. The bill was one of five initiated at the last general assembly, but that body failed to take action on it. Members of the Anti-Saloon league declare that no fraud will be found in any of its petitions. An invitation to scrutinize the signatures to determine their genuineness was issued. The bill will go on the ballot automatically, providing no defects are found.

MOVES AGAINST PHONE MERGER

Federal Attorney General Seeks Its Dissolution.

CIVIL SUIT FILED IN OREGON

Government Charges the Bell Company and Subsidiaries With Absorbing Independent Telephone Companies to Destroy Competition and Create a Monopoly—Two Ohio Men Among Those Named as Defendants.

Portland, Ore., July 25.—Dissolution of the alleged telephone monopoly in the northwest by the American Telephone and Telegraph company, the so-called Bell telephone trust, is sought by Attorney General McReynolds in a civil anti-trust suit filed here.

The government charges the giant corporation and its subsidiaries with absorbing independent telephone companies to destroy competition and create a monopoly in Oregon, Washington, Montana and Idaho, in violation of the Sherman law. Among those named as defendants in the suit are A. E. Adams and W. H. Foster of Ohio.

This is the first attempt ever made to apply the federal anti-trust statute to the telephone situation. Telephone companies have claimed that the telephone, like the railroad, is a natural monopoly, and that a single system is conducive to the best interests of the public. The department of justice contends that is a question of public policy for congress to determine.

SOME PERTINENT QUESTIONS TO BE ASKED MINISTER WHEN HE COMES

Some Very Harsh Charges Have Been Lodged With the State Department Against the Ambassador to Mexico Who is Now on His Way to the National Capital to Confer With President Wilson and Secretary of State Bryan.

Strong Support of Huerta Charged to Have Financial Basis

Claim that Son of Ambassador is on the Pay Roll at a $500 per Month Rate—Knowledge of Plot to Overthrow Madero is One of the Most Serious Charges Lodged Against the Ambassador.

Washington, July 24.—When Henry Lane Wilson engages in a series of conferences with President Woodrow Wilson and Secretary Bryan next week, it is said that he will be asked about certain charges having to do with his administration as Ambassador to Mexico.

The charges fall into two groups—first, those relating to any part he may or may not have taken in the coup d'etat which resulted in the overthrow of the Madero administration last February; second, relating to certain money claims on the Mexican government and lawsuits involving money before the Mexican courts.

In this latter group are recited the claim of the Chinese government for $3,500,000 indemnity for the massacre of 301 Chinese at Torreon during the Madero revolution; the claim of the Mexican Herald for $100,000 damages accruing for the suppression of the American edition of this newspaper by President Madero; the lawsuit brought by James Brown Potter, New York capitalist, for irrigation rights in the Laguna cotton district, valued at $3,500,000; a lawsuit involving a valuable mine in Oaxaca, owned by or formerly owned by a syndicate of which Charles Hamilton, a Columbus, Ohio, capitalist, was the head, and other claims.

These statements and charges have been collecting in the State and War departments for upwards of a year and a half. Some of them are conceded to have little other foundation than the gossip in American clubs and cafes in the City of Mexico. Others have probably arisen from the jealousies, cliques and bickerings characteristic of American colonies abroad and especially those in the Latin-American countries.

But in the mass they are regarded by the President and Secretary Bryan as sufficient to be brought before Ambassador Wilson during his visit. A resume of them was obtained tonight.

Incidentally it may be stated that the same allegations have been brought to the attention of members of Congress, especially members of the Senate Foreign relations Committee, who are at the present time concerned over the Mexican situation. However, Senators are said to feel that the matter may best be handled by the President and Secretary of State. The Potter irrigation case is one of the interesting allegations in the statement held by the President. The James Brown Potter Company formerly held certain water grants on a river in the rich Laguna district in Northern Mexico. Settlers further down the stream complained that the Potter Company was exhausting the water supply on its own project. In the Madero administration suit was begun setting aside the Potter grants. It was fought through the courts, and the Supreme Court of Mexico decided against the company, according to the information given to the State department.

These grants were said to be worth $3,500,000 to the company. When the Huerta coup overthrew Madero the man named for Minister of Fomento (corresponding to our Secretary of Interior) was Robias Gil, who had been attorney for the Potter company in its litigation.

Shortly thereafter Gil undid the Supreme court decision by signing the patents restoring the water rights irrevocably to the Potter company.

During much of the administration of President Madero the litigation over the Hamilton mine was being fought out in the Mexican courts. According to the story told, Charles Hamilton sold the mine to a syndicate headed by Lebeus Wilfley, formerly Attorney-General of the Philippine Islands and an American Judge who tried to clean up the Caucasian morals of the city of Shanghai, China, a reform which led to his retirement.

Under the terms of the sale the Wilfley syndicate made a cash payment and contracted to pay $90,000 a month out of the mine receipts until the full contract price was paid to Hamilton.

After a period, according to the allegations, the Wilfley syndicate defaulted in the monthly payments.

ACCOUNTING IS DEMANDED

Hamilton brought suit for an accounting, claiming that the syndicate had diverted the proceeds from the destination prescribed by the contract of sale. Further developments in the case showed, it is alleged, that Judge Wilfley had voted himself a stipend of $2,000 a month out of the receipts of the mining company another $2,000 a month to one Bassett, a partner, who later broke with Judge Wilfley and now resides in Texas; while to John Wilson, son of Henry Lane Wilson, and a member of the syndicate, the sum of $500 a month was voted.

The case was brought in behalf of Hamilton by Burton Wilson, who formerly had been attorney for the American embassy, but who had disagreed with Ambassador Wilson and so with some gusto took the case against the group of which the Ambassador's son was a member. The charge is made by Hamilton that the Ambassador attempted to interfere with the court procedure in this case. Since then the court has ordered Judge Wilfley not to leave its jurisdiction. Ambassador Wilson wanted Wilfley to be one of the delegation of Mexico City Americans who recently visited Washington. It is said he appealed to Hamilton to ask the court to allow Judge Wilfley to leave Mexico, but the Columbus man would not consent.

ATTORNEY GENERAL HOLDS MAYOR'S VETO OF SPECIAL ELECTION ORDINANCE IS NULLITY

Ordinance Which had Rocky Road to Travel Through Council and Which Met a Veto at the Hands of the Mayor is Held to be Effective, by Attorney General Hogan, to Call for an Election.

CITY SOLICITOR RANKIN'S VIEWS ON THE QUESTION ARE UPHELD

Opinion of General Hogan is Quite Voluminous and is Pronounced to be an Exhaustive Resume on the Law Pertaining to the Case Submitted.

Washington will vote on September 2nd on the question of "Shall a Commission be Chosen to Frame a Charter?" This is a result of the decision of Attorney General Hogan in an opinion handed down in response to inquiry made by Solicitor Harry M. Rankin of this city in which he holds that the "veto" of Mayor Smith of the ordinance calling for an election on the above question is void.

Attorney General Hogan's opinion covers eleven typewritten pages and was received by Solicitor Rankin Friday morning and he immediately directed a letter to Clerk of Council Flynn directing him to certify the ordinance to the Deputy State Supervisors of Elections in order that no further delay may be experienced, and that the election to determine whether Washington shall have a commission to frame a charter be held on the date of the municipal primary election.

When the ordinance passed after several meetings were held, and at the request of more than ten per centum of the voters of the city, was returned to Council it bore the words: "Vetoed July 8th, 1913, Harve W. Smith, Mayor." The ordinance was then held up and was believed by some to have been killed by the alleged veto.

It was then Solicitor Rankin wrote to Attorney General Hogan for an opinion asking if it were necessary to present the ordinance to the mayor before the ordinance could go into effect.

A reply from the Attorney General's office asked for Solicitor Rankin's opinion, and this was sent, together with another question of whether the manner in which Mayor Smith had made the alleged veto was legal, providing it was necessary to submit the ordinance to him for his approval or disapproval.

The opinion submitted by Solicitor Rankin and the one tendered by Attorney General Hogan are much the same.

Mr. Hogan held that it was necessary to present the ordinance to the mayor, and that he had a right to pass upon the ordinance.

He further adds, however, that: "The remedy in case of failure of the council and the mayor to act upon such petition need not be considered in your case."

In answering the second question as to the legality of the form of the mayor's veto, Mr. Hogan ruled that the veto must be accompanied by the mayor's objections, and that as no objections were noted, the ordinance was in full force just as if the mayor had not attempted to veto it.

BLACKBERRIES GALORE IN HILL COUNTIES

Mr. C. W. Barnes has just returned from Paxton township, Ross county, south of Bainbridge and reports one of the greatest crops of blackberries ever produced by the hill counties.

Berries by the hundreds of bushels are going to waste for want of pickers, and they are selling at $1.25 to $2.00 per bushel in the field. The crop is not only a large one, according to Mr. Barnes, but consists of berries of excellent flavor and large size.

Moore's canning factory of Bainbridge is canning hundreds of bushels of the fine large berries, and as most citizens of Washington are familiar with the Moore product, there is likelihood that there will be a great demand for the canned berries.

The young men claimed that they were starting for Columbus to do vaudeville work, and had gone "hook" in this city.

THOUSANDS OF JAPS MAY HELP MEXICANS FIGHT

Washington, July 25.—Official circles of the Capitol were startled yesterday by information obtained by Edward I. Bell, well known as an owner of newspapers in Mexico, that more than 100,000 Japanese are quartered throughout Mexico and that 20,000 of them are in and about Mexico City in position to be concentrated within three days for any enterprise which may seem desirable to the Japanese ministry at the Mexican capital.

There are 5,000 Japanese in Mexico City proper, 5,000 more in outlying suburbs of the federal district and others in easy access to the capital by rail, with 80,000 in the interior and in towns along the Pacific Coast.

The information is that all are engaged in menial employment and that, when dressed as the usual Mexican peon, they are not at once distinguished from the natives with whom they mingle. The section through which the easily available 20,000 are scattered has a normal population of 2,000,000, largely peons.

A Reversal of Form

The larger cities of the state during the last few weeks in the elections to adopt or reject a new plan of municipal government have been pretty generally declining to change from the existing form.

To those who advocated so strenuously the adopting of the amendments, providing for home rule for cities this action is something of a surprise.

It will be remembered that most, if not all of the agitation for more power to the voters of the cities and for a less unwieldy and more adaptable plan came from the larger cities.

It was from those larger cities that the claim went out that the public service corporations were exercising too much control in municipal affairs and that the control was due largely to the form of government—a form it was claimed which placed the power of government and the control of affairs too far away from the people.

People of the smaller cities did not seem so much concerned over the amendments but voted for their adoption really because of the agitation which came out from the cities.

Strange as it may seem the communities' loudest in the demand for home rule are the first to decline with thanks and the smaller cities are first to take up the chance to change.

This is explained by some on the theory that the masses of the voters in the larger cities have not been voting and the few have been turning down the proposal to change through selfish interests. The need for a change in the larger cities is not so clearly seen as in the smaller ones, where almost every voter realizes that the whole plan is wrong when applied to the small cities. It is too big and costs too much to operate.

More people proportionately are interested in the smaller cities than are interested in the larger cities.

The desire and the need for change is more clearly apparent in the one than in the other. Consequently a greater percentage of the people act and vote for a change.

- Before getting up in the morning take the head off the pillow and stretch out straight. Begin by kicking backward with first one foot and then the other, fifteen times each. During this and other movements, where counting is required, draw in the breath to the limit and hold it while the movement is on from ten to fifteen times.

- Throw first one foot and then the other toward the headboard, keeping the knee joints as straight as you can.
- While still lying on the back, kick out with both feet as wide apart as you can and do the kicking with emphasis so as to strain the muscles of the calf and soles of the feet.
- Fasten the feet under something and pull the trunk up to a sitting posture. Drop back and repeat four or five times. This is very straining at first, and one ought to go about it cautiously until the muscles have become accustomed to the strain.
- Throw the head back with the feet on the bed and lift the body clear so that the shoulders do not touch. This will form an arch. Repeat at two or three times. This is enough in bed in the morning.
- Take a cold bath and rub down briskly unless you do not like cold water or have not the facilities to do it. Put on underwear and take a light pair of dumbbells (three and one-half pounds) to give momentum to the movements. Begin to exercise the other muscles which have not yet been used.
- While standing flatfooted throw the arms down by the thighs backward. Straighten up and repeat ten times. Continue in the same motion. Bend the trunk forward as nearly horizontal as you can maintain it and let the arms swing as near the floor as they can go. This limbers up the muscles of the back.
- Now, keeping the knees stiff, try to punch the big toe of each foot with both fists. Repeat five or six times.
- Using the dumbbells, pass them to the right and left, one arm going by the body, while the other is extended as high above the head as possible, and as one goes down elevate the other. This will lubricate and loosen the joints of the shoulders.

Poetry For Today

KEEP OUT OF THE PAST.

Whatever you do in this wonderful world,
In business, in church or at play,
Whatever of gain or of loss you have met
With the others who go away,
Keep out of the past
From the first to the last,
And away from its worries stay;
The present has wealth you would never suspect,
If prudent you are and wisely elect
To live in the light of today.

The things that are past did very well once;
To-day they are rusty and stale.
That trouble you had with your fellowman—
Did you struggle in vain and fail?
What of it indeed?
There is all the more need
That you start on a different trail.
Don't take to the woods, whatever you do.
Just look right ahead; there's a fortune for you
In keeping a well-trimmed sail.

So cramped can we be in our mental states,
So burdened with might-have-beens
That life will become a woeful waste
For its many outs and ins.
But stop and reflect
You will never be wrecked
By your own or another's sins.
If the past you will keep in its proper place
And meet what is yours with a candid face—
'Tis the man of today who wins.

It is being urged in California that there is room in the Yosemite National park for the grazing of thousands of heads of cattle, and that if the unused pasture were given over to grazers the average tourist would never know the difference, because that individual sees only a fraction of the area of the park.

Russia is the largest purchaser of American agricultural machinery, export figures of the bureau of foreign commerce showing that $10,000,000 of such tools were sent to that country during the year just ended, against $7,000,000 to Canada; $6,500,000 to Argentina; $4,000,000 to Germany and $3,500,000 to France. After a sabbatical of two years, word has been received from Radford, of New York, the Arctic explorer and Barren land traveler. His half-bred guide has reached Herschel islands for supplies leaving the explorer in good health. According to reports, Radford has collected splendid specimens of animals and vegetable life and expects to remain in the north two years longer. He has been exploring continually for four years and some time ago was placed in hard straits by the desertion of his guides in the Barren land.

The Pope has set his seal on a much debated case of exceptional interest in ecclesiastical law. An Italian priest, who has been exercising the function of priesthood for 12 years, desired to be freed from all sacerdotal obligations on the plea that he was morally constrained by his parents while under age to enter the sacred ministry. The Pope pronounced the ordination null and restores him to all the rights of a secular member of the church, including the contracting of a religious marriage. It is believed that the decision will have a far reaching effect in the ranks of Catholic clergy.

HOLOCAUST

SEVEN EMPLOYEES BLOWN TO ATOMS

Ton of Gunpowder Explodes, Wrecking the Plant.

Mantreal, July 25.—As a result of the explosion of over a ton of gunpowder in the Canadian Explosive company's plant at Beloeil, near Montreal, the entire staff, consisting of seven people, were blown to atoms. Bricks and other debris from the factory were blown a mile away and windows three miles distant were shattered by the force of the shock. The dead include four men and three girls. A number of other persons were injured, several seriously. The explosion was of terrific force. The building in which it occurred was completely wrecked. The bodies of the victims were scattered over a wide territory. All were torn to shreds, pieces of the bodies having been found more than half a mile away.

should be sent at once. He says 10 deputy sheriffs are in the hospital and others have been intimidated by the strikers and are turning in their badges and quitting. The governor's office received a message from the sheriff at Calumet stating that he was in the hands of a mob of 500 men and that another mob of 500 was on the way to Calumet from Ahmeek, a small mining town near Calumet. Strike violence occasioned by the walkout of copper miners in this district grew beyond control of Sheriff Crane and he wired to Governor Ferris asking that state troops be dispatched to maintain order. Calumet and Hecla shafts at the Calumet branch closed when the strikers prevented men from going to work. Franklin and Hancock mines also suspended. Mining Captain Thomas Matthews of the Calumet and Hecla was attacked by strikers and rendered unconscious. A large body of strikers went from one shaft to another at the Calumet and Hecla and Tamarack and several employees were attacked with stones and painfully hurt.

GREWSOME TASK

PROBING HOLOCAUST AT BINGHAMTON

Expert Says He Found Evidence of Criminal Carelessness.

Binghamton, N. Y., July 25.—James P. Whiskeman, expert in the employ of the Wagner-Smith state factory investigation commission, made a thorough examination of the site of the destroyed Binghamton Clothing company. Mr. Whiskeman is the expert who was retained to make an investigation of the Triangle Waist company's fire. He declared that there was more criminal carelessness in the Binghamton fire than he found in the Triangle disaster. His investigation, he said, revealed the fact that a stairway running through the clothing company's building had been removed to make more room for manufacturing. "It is another case," said Whiskeman, "of dollars and cents being placed above human life. To permit 60 girls to be employed on the fourth floor of that building with only one stairway, which might be cut off at any time in the event of fire, was inherently dangerous."

MOUNTAIN STATE WAR

MORE BLOOD SHED ON CABIN CREEK

Two Guards and Two Miners Killed In Short, Sharp Fray.

Charleston, W. Va., July 25.—Three men were killed and another received injuries from which he died in a short, sharp battle between striking miners and watchmen employed by the Wake Forest Coal company at Wake Forest on Cabin Creek. The dead: Frank Ginn, coal company watchman; two unidentified men, members of the attacking party. Don Slater, another watchman of the company. Since the mining town of Olley, nearby on Cabin creek, was attacked and shot up three weeks ago, it has been the custom of the coal operators to have watchmen scout the hillside before the numerous miners are permitted to enter or leave the mines. Watchmen Ginn and Slater were making the usual search. While going along the heavily wooded hillside they were suddenly attacked by a band of men, who opened fire on them. Ginn fell, fatally wounded, and Slater dropped, shot through the leg. Slater, however, returned the fire, killing two of the attacking party, and received another bullet through the body.

CRAIG BROTHERS

TO ASK INCREASE

FOR GREATER ARMY

Secretary of War Garrison Advocates Shorter Enlistment.

El Paso, Tex., July 25.—Secretary of War Garrison, Chief of Staff Leonard Wood and Quartermaster General Aleshaire, after inspecting Fort Bliss with a view to enlargement and looking over the border patrol camps near El Paso, left for Fort Huachuca and other Arizona border points. Both inquired much about Mexican conditions, but declined to make an expression upon Mexican affairs.

Mr. Garrison and General Wood made brief talks at a luncheon of business men. In his address Mr. Garrison declared:

"The country needs a greater standing army than it has at present, but the citizen soldier needs training, as the average citizen now. If called to arms, could not build a camp fire nor shoot." The solution, he said, "was a shorter enlistment in the regular army to give more men training, with an obligation upon each man to serve a term after his regular army enlistment in a reserve of citizen soldiers."

SHOOP MAY HEAD CHICAGO SCHOOLS

Superintendent of Chicago Schools Tenders Resignation and First Assistant Superintendent John D. Shoop, Formerly of this City, Stands in Line for Promotion to $10,000 Per Annum Job.

Mrs. Ella Flagg Young, superintendent of the Chicago Public Schools since 1909, has tendered her resignation and First Assistant Superintendent John D. Shoop, formerly of this city and who still owns farming interests in western Fayette, is mentioned as the next superintendent at a salary of $10,000 per annum.

Mrs. Young gives politics as the reason for her resignation, stating that relations between herself and the school board had been none too pleasant. She said her intention to resign had been known to the Board of Education for some time.

The board has changed complexion politically with change of administration since Mrs. Young's appointment, and she has found it difficult recently to effectuate her plans.

"I can fight for a principle, I can fight for another person, but I am too old to fight for myself," said Mrs. Young today.

Mrs. Young is 68 years old. She has been a school teacher since 1862, President of the State Board of Education, President of the National Educational Association in 1910-11, and is one of the most prominent women educators in the United States. Her appointment as superintendent of the Chicago schools at an annual salary of $10,000 was a sensation at the time.

Her administration of the position has developed many branches of training here, particularly along the line of vocational education and improvement of teachers' positions.

In her work she has been ably assisted by Prof. Shoop, who has so far been the only person mentioned as Mrs. Young's successor.

Prof. Shoop is advanced in his educational ideas and is recognized as second to none in the educational field in the United States. From a farmer boy in Fayette county he has climbed from one position to another until he has reached one of the highest positions in the educational field in the land.

The announcement of his appointment to succeed Mrs. Young will be heralded with pleasure among his friends in this county, and there is every reason to believe that he will be chosen unless politics again enter into the case.

WOMEN ACT

Special to Herald.

Chicago, July 25th.—Many club women and suffragist leaders of this city held a meeting today and took action looking to compelling the Board of Education to retain Ella Young, as superintendent of the city schools.

Much indignation was expressed at the action of the Board in refusing to re-employ her for another term.

The opportunity that one man throws away as being of no value, another man will make the basis of a fortune.

MONUMENT WORKS IN HANDSOME NEW HOME OF ITS OWN

The P. J. Burke Monument works the proprietors of which have just moved into the handsome new building of their own, at the corner of East and Fayette streets, designed and built especially for the business, was established by P. J. Burke, Esq., in 1868, and is one of the oldest retail shops in Ohio, which was successively carried on until two years ago when the business was sold to his son, P. J. Burke, Jr., who was at the time running a shop at Wellston, O., and as soon as business would permit combined his Wellston shop with the one here and immediately installed all new and up-to-date machinery.

Mr. Burke has a sales-office in the Carlisle building in Chillicothe with Mr. Thomas Murphy a resident of that city in charge, and has done a prosperous business in and around Chillicothe. Mr. Frank McCurdy, of Portsmouth represents the Burke Monument Works in Portsmouth who also has been with this firm for four years. Rev. E. O. Hobbs, who travels this and the surrounding counties has been with this firm for the last twenty years. The Burke Monument Co. is known throughout this section and their work is erected in every cemetery and grave yard for miles around. They are equipped to do the work their customers desire. Have their own pneumatic plant just the same as is used at the quarries. They employ only the best skilled labor and carry the largest stock of finished work to be found in this section of Ohio.

The new home of the Burke Monument Works was especially built for the Granite business. Has a solid cement floor with wood covering which will hold all the stone possible to put in the building. There will also be a large Curtis crane of 20,000 pounds capacity. One man by resort to the crane can lift a piece of stone weighing eight tons and set it any place in the shop. Part of this crane has already arrived and the rest is expected at an early date.

QUEEN WHO BEGGED FOR MERCY AND QUEEN TO WHOM SHE SENT APPEAL

The unusual spectacle of a queen pleading with a queen was the most striking recent development of the troubles in the Balkans. Queen Eleanore of Bulgaria sent a telegraphic appeal to Queen Elizabeth of Roumania asking that the advance of the Roumanian troops into Bulgaria be stopped. To this Queen Elizabeth replied that the soldiers would continue to advance, "but with consideration." The plea that the advance on Sofia be halted was made on the strength of charges that the Roumanian troops had been guilty of startling atrocities. King Ferdinand married Queen Eleanore in 1908. She is a princess of the Reuss house. Her majesty had personal supervision of the commissary and hospital departments during the campaign against the Turks. She inspected supplies as she went to the front and organized relief for the families of the soldiers killed or disabled in the fighting. Queen Elizabeth has written several novels and volumes of poetry under her pen name, Carmen Sylva. She is sixty-nine years old.

AFFLICTED EYE MAY BE REMOVED

Mrs. Anna Cowgill, of New Holland, who has been suffering for some time with a disease of the eye, may be compelled to undergo an operation for the removal of the eye. The affliction is on the back portion of the eye, and already an operation has been performed to relieve the intense suffering of Mrs. Cowgill.

Mr. Burke starts the business in its new home with a large amount of business which will be completed this fall, and bright prospects for a prosperous business in the future.

The present head of the firm has, during the past few months, become more widely known on account of his opposition, expressed in public communications, to the community mausoleum plan.

CHICAGO FANS ARE EXPECTING THE UNUSUAL FROM HEINIE ZIMMERMAN

Chicago, July 25.—Charles Murphy and Manager Evers are trying to make a second Ty Cobb of Heinie Zimmerman. They play him up at every chance and are emphasizing his eccentricities and his quarrels. Recently it was announced that a fan had offered Heinie $100 to keep quiet on the field for three days. By a tremendous exercise of will power Zimmerman won the century, and then it became known that the yellowback was peeled off the Murphy bank roll. Zimmerman is one of the scrappiest players in the game, and it makes little difference to him whether he scraps with a fan, an opposing player, Manager Evers, an umpire or even Owner Murphy. He is what an artist would call temperamental, and it is necessary to humor him. As he is batting well above 300, with one-half of his hits meaning extra bases Zimmerman won the century, and then it became known that the yellowback was peeled off the Murphy bank roll.

HAMMER TARIFF BILL

Republican Senators Say Democrats Can Not Keep Promise.

Washington, July 25.—Republican senators continued to offer amendments to nearly every paragraph of the Underwood-Simmons tariff bill, when its reading was resumed, and Democrats in solid phalanx voted them down. Senators Weeks of California and Weeks of Massachusetts criticized the bill. Senator Weeks said the Democratic party had promised "to correct all of the existing conditions, with the end of bettering all mankind."

"The Democrats plan to do this by a new tariff bill," added Mr. Weeks, "but the people will find that to change conditions the way now suggested will result only in injury to all classes of citizens."

STILL LOOKING FOR LOST WHISTLE

D. T. & I. employees and particularly the crew of passenger train No. 1 are still looking for a whistle lost off of engine No. 81 several days ago, but so far their efforts to locate the disconnected noise-maker have proven futile.

A few nights ago while near Springfield the engineer suddenly discovered that the most important part of his engine whistle was missing, and he was forced to continue part of his run without a whistle, using the bell to give warning.

PRISONERS REVOLT

WORST DAY YET IN PRISON REVOLT

Break at Sing Sing Averted When Leaders Are Sent to Auburn.

Ossining, N. Y., July 25.—Two hundred and fifty men spent the day in their cells because Warden Clark, the new head of Sing Sing prison, had received word that there would be a fire in the knitting shop if the convicts employed there were put to work. One hundred first-time men who work in the shoeshop, straw and were locked in their shops. A convict set a fire in the clothing shop.

The strike or jail delivery hasn't been attempted yet, and the warden thinks it was intended to attempt it when he sent his second-time men to Auburn prison.

The second-time men were pulled out of their cells one at a time. Five guards handled each man. As fast as two were led out they were shackled together with handcuffs and leg irons and hustled under guard to the prison yard. Their mates in the cell block raised a racket that could be heard for miles.

It was the worst day yet in the prison revolt. The first-time men who were locked up in their shop later surrendered and were returned to their cells. Penned in their cells, the convicts shouted and yelled and cursed for Kennedy, the deposed warden.

Annual Field Exercises of Pennsylvania National Guardsmen With U. S. Regulars.

Photos copyright, 1913, by American Press Association.

Being a national guardsman these days means arduous duties at camp and as a result a constantly increasing degree of efficiency. In the picture is shown Battery E of the United States army at gun practice at Sherman field, Tobyhanna, Pa., where regulars went into camp with the guardsmen. The captain of the company on the ladder is observing the effect of the firing of his men from that vantage point. The field telephone also is shown. It connects headquarters and a point near the firing line. The device first came into wide use at Port Arthur during the Russo-Japanese war. To every regiment of the national guard is attached a signal corps, and a necessary part of the equipment of the latter is the field telephone.

Long Lived Ornaments.

Ornaments last longer than anything else that man makes. There are brooches and necklaces in museums more than forty centuries old. Monuments, perhaps, stand second, and houses third. The life of furniture is shorter still. There is very little furniture in England which dates beyond the year 1500. Pictures last longer than furniture, and there are paintings still in fair condition which have weathered six centuries of life
